

COVID RESPONSIVE BEHAVIOUR

"The secret of crisis management is not good vs bad. It's preventing the bad from getting worse."

The Covid-19 pandemic has impacted every aspect of life. It is a great challenge to health and work of billions. Nearly, half of the world's 3.3 billion global workforce are at a risk of losing their livelihoods. Although, situations are improving now but the risk remains the same. As the saying goes 'Prevention is the best cure', we all are advised to understand the preventive measures. Government has started to give penalties if people are not covid responsive. But, this is not the solution to the problem. For a significant impact, people should come together to fight Covid-19. So, it is our personal and civic responsibility to adapt covid appropriate behaviour.

While, we all are in the same boat, we must try to help the vulnerable people in this difficult time. We should avoid any unnecessary parties and meetings. We all are working online, so why not dance to the tunes ONLINE! Even if you are not living in a covid-prone area, don't avoid masks and sanitizers.

Restaurants have opened but why to go for al-fresco dining when you have ingredients and YOUTUBE at home? Try to avoid fast food. Eat Healthy, Be Healthy. We are extremely fortunate to have vaccines. So, it's an individual's moral responsibility to get vaccinated. Social Media is a boon for us.

We should try to spread awareness regarding these situations. Times are difficult and it is high time to be humanitarian.

So, boost your confidence and handle this Covid Responsive Behaviour with utmost grace. STAY HAPPY AND HEALTHY!
